AN UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT.

MANY ATTENDED THE WEDDING.

The Little People, as Bride and Groom and Attendants, Formed a Pretty Picture—Living Library Also a Source of Great Pleasure—Lovely Young Women Represented Popular Books—The Prize Winners.

A most novel and thoroughly delightful affair last night broke the monotony of the dull season. This was the Tom Thumb wedding and Living Library given by the Epworth League of West Market Street church. An audience that almost entirely filled the large warehouse enjoyed the entertainment, which was a perfect success in every way.

In the front part of the warehouse, where the wedding took place, was a small altar, around which were banked quantities of pretty cut flowers and potted plants. While the Home Orchestra played Mendlessohn's wedding march, the following little ladies and gentlemen came down the aisle and formed a semi-circle around the altar, where the preacher, Master Bert Eldridge, had already taken his place: Miss Ruth Mendenhall and Master Rodrick Stamey; Miss Ellen Cutchin and Master Harry Brockmann; Miss Ida Cartland and Master Harry Clendenin; Miss Nelson Walsh and Master Herbert Brockman; Miss Margaret Callum and Master Hugh Scott; Miss Mabel Ridge and Master John Brodnax: Page, Master Charles Meekins.

Then followed the bride, Miss Margaret Bradshaw, and her maid of honor, Miss Edith Forbis. They were met at the altar by the groom, handsome Master Cutler Watkins, and his best man, Master Harry Williams.

The little bride looked lovely in her gown of white organdy, en train, with her veil caught up by a spray of orange blossoms, and carrying a boquet of white roses.

The bridesmaids were irresistible in their white organdy dresses and carried pink roses.

The little groomsmen in their evening suits looked extremely cute, and quite as miserable. Their serious little faces evidenced that they fully appreciated the solemnity of the occasion. The whole ceremony went off without a hitch.

In the rear of the house, which had been made attractive by the use of pretty lamps, curtains, and rugs, was the "Living Library," a source of much interest and fun. Each character was very cleverly gotten up. Miss Annie Baker, with "Three Feathers" in her coiffure, puzzled many at the start. Miss Annie Glenn was the well known "Queen of Hearts," and Miss Emma Sharpe, in a pretty silk gown of her grand-mother, was a quaintly beautiful picture and looked every inch "An Old Fashioned Girl," Miss Nan Wood, as "A Double Thread," Misses Nellie and Bessie Merrimon as "Flute and Violin," Miss Watlington as "With Edged Tools," Miss Nellie Poole as "Paradise Lost," Mr. Frank Boyles as "The Man in Black;" Misses Carraway and Wheeler as "The Heavenly Twins;" Miss Eller as "The Violet;" Miss Weaver as "The Wandering Jew;" Mr. Sellars as "The Gray Man;" Miss Lyon as "Rose in Bloom;" Miss Lola Reid as "The Orange Girl;" Miss Reid as "The Spectator;" Miss Land as "Black and White," and Miss Satterthwaite as "Under Two Flags," were exceptionally well carried out. Misses Walker Fry, Lizzie Leigh Dick and Mr. Appleton Staples made an attractive group "Over The Tea Cups;" Miss Mozelle Andrews as "Old Curiosity Shop;" Mr. Jim Mann as "Reveries of a Bachelo;" and Miss Ruby Eldridge as "Bow of Orange Ribbon," were also extremely good. Miss Brooks, with the back of her waist covered with blue, on which were arranged groups of letters, ably represented the familiar old "Blue Back Speller;" Mr. Richard Crawford as "Richard Carvel;" Miss Hanna as "The Woman in White;" Miss Stone as "A Study in Scarlet," Misses Lindsay and Markham as "The Sowers," Miss Ruby Eldridge as "Fern Leaves," Miss Hutchins as "Under the Lilacs," Miss Embrey as "The Lilac Sun-bonnet," Miss McDonald as "Wild Animals I Have Known," and Miss Margaret Bradshaw as "Wee Wifie," made fine representations. Miss May Small deserves praise for carrying out so well the difficult (for her) role of "Silence."

Mrs. J. C. Murchison, having guessed 32 out of 34 books represented, was awarded the first prize, and Mr. Paul Schenck, who made 30 correct guesses, was given the second prize. The prize winners have the privilege of selecting their books.

To Mrs. Whitsett, Mrs. Stone and Miss Hattie Eldridge is due the success of the evening.

SURPRISES IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Hoyt Leads His Opponents by 10,000, and Tillman is Scratched by Fully 20,000.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 28—The Democratic primary in this State today has been attended by many surprises. The general election is a mere ratification of the primary, and all interest centers in the latter. The issue has been dispensary or prohibition. Colonel James A. Hoyt, of Greenville, was the prohibition nominee, and the dispensary was represented by Governor M. B. McSweeney, F. B. Gary, Speaker of the House of Representatives; A. Howard Patterson, and Rev. Walt Whitman. The latter has been a candidate for office 18 years and never elected. A canvass of the entire State was made, each of the forty counties being visited. The prohibitionists assailed the dispensary, and the champions of the dispensary fell out among themselves. Patterson viciously attacked Governor McSweeny, who became Governor on the death of Governor Ellerbe.

Senator Tillman, who claims paternity for the dispensary, came into the campaign and fought Colonel Hoyt As a result of this interference Tillman's name has been scratched by 20,000 voters today, although he has no opponent. Colonel Hoyt, the Prohibitionist, leads in the first race. He will probably lead McSweeny by 10,000 votes.

There will be a second primary two weeks from today, and the issue between Hoyt and McSweeny will be close.

BONDS ORDERED SOLD.

Street Works to Begin Soon—Mr. Cox Made Assistant Street Overseer.

The Board of Aldermen held a special meeting last night to discuss the disposition of the water, electric light and street bonds. All the members of the board were present except Messrs. Hunter, Scott and Phillips.

After a full and free discussion the Mayor was ordered to negotiate for the sale of the water and light bonds and $10,000 worth of street bonds.

It was thought best to issue only a portion of the street bonds at this time, the remainder to be disposed of as the work is prosecuted.

The board adopted a resolution directing the city engineer to devote as much time as he can spare from street work to locating grade lines of streets.

Mr. E. A. Cox, an employe of the street department, was made assistant street overseer, his salary being increased $5 per month.

The Hog Pen Not the Only Nuisance.

It seems that the hog pen is not the only nuisance in the town. A gentleman complained to the chief of police this morning that a neighbor was the owner of a large and vicious dog that is a terror to people who pass along that street, especially women and children. While going home last night, the complainant said, the dog attacked him, the fact that he was riding a wheel being all that saved him. He said the only thing that kept him from shooting the dog was the fear of a neighborhood row.

Negro Shot in Rutherford.

Special to Charlotte Observer.

Rutherfordton, Aug. 28—Mr. Mills H. Flack was shot and killed on his plantation, near Forest City, this morning at 9 o'clock by Avery Mills, a negro, and later Mills and the officers in charge of him were overtaken by a crowd on the way to Rutherfordton jail and the negro carried to the woods and riddled with bullets.

Enters Journalism.

Mr. Harold C. Taylor, of Guilford College, has decided to try the tempestuous and uncertain life of a newspaper man, and with this end in view, has associated himself with the Greensboro Patriot. He is a graduate of Guilford College and is well equipped for newspaper work.

A SERIOUS CONFLAGRATION.

L. RICHARDSON DRUG CO. BURNED.

Fire Breaks Out in the Basement and Burns Fiercely Until Extinguished--Loss Will Amount to $5,000 or $10,000, and is Protected by Insurance--Business Not Interrupted--A Lady Injured.

What came near being a most disastrous fire occured on South Elm street this morning. Shortly after 11 o'clock an alarm from box No. 32 brought out the fire department and a large crowd of people, who were alarmed to see great volumes of smoke pouring out of the L. Richardson Drug Company's wholesale house. The fire was located in the rear of the basement under the store, where it was burning fiercely. The inconvenient location made it very hard to reach and fight, but in a few minutes the firemen were throwing strong streams of water on it

In addition to the other goods in the basement, there were a number of barrels of oils, varnishes and other combustibles, and the smoke that came from them was very dense, filling the entire building and pouring out through the doors and windows It was very difficult for any one to go inside the building and next to impossible to remove anything.

After fighting valiantly for half an hour or more the firemen had the flames under control and all danger had passed. An idea can be formed of the amount of work done when it is understood that the water in the basement, after the fire, was three feet deep. The firemen stood bravely to their posts and fought in the water and amidst the blinding, stifling smoke until ordered out of the basement.

Owing to the prompt and vigilant work of the firemen, the damage is comparatively light, being estimated at something between $5,000 and $10,000. The company carried a $35,000 stock of drugs, oils, varnishes, extracts, etc., with insurance to the amount of only $17,000. The stock had recently been considerably increased while the taking out of additional insurance had been neglected.

The building is the property of Mr. W. O. Doggett, of Brown Summit, and is only slightly damaged.

As soon as the building had been cleared of smoke the work of filling orders was resumed. The business of the company will suffer no interruption whatever.

The origin of the fire was traced to a barrel of Japan dryer. An employe was drawing a quantity of the liquid from the barrel, when it became ignited from a lantern he held.

Two ladies employed in the extract department, on the second floor, were for a time cut off from a way of egress from the building. The smoke made it impossible for them to descend by the stairway, and as a mattter of course, they were badly frightened. When the hook and ladder truck arrived a ladder was run up to the window, when they were brought down. One of them, a Mrs. Gallahan, was struck on the face by the ladder and suffered a painful wound. A gash was cut in her face, just under the right eye, from which the blood flowed freely.

The furniture of the Greensboro Loan and Trust Company, which is located in the building in which the fire occurred, was removed. Mr. C. C. Townsend, who occupies an adjoing building, rolled a number of his buggies and carriages out into the street. These two concerns suffered no damage, however.

Sales on the Tobacco Market.

Sales on the tobacco market are picking up, though they are by no means heavy. Practically all of last year's crop has been sold, the tobacco coming in now being the primings; that is, the leaves growing next to the ground. They ripen in advance of the other leaves on a stalk. No tobacco will be cut and cured in this section until the first or second week in September

The new tobacco year opens October 1st.

Messrs. T. J. and Will McAdoo returned last night from Atlantic City, where they have been recuperating for some time. While away, Mr. T. J. McAdoo visited Chicago, Cleveland and other large cities, where he purchased electrical goods for the Greensboro Telephone Exchange.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS.

The Specsal Cabinet Meeting Gives Voice to the Expectation of Important Developments.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Washington, Aug. 29.—While the story of the defeat of the allies at Pekin is discredited both in Washington and in London, advices from the Chinese capital indicate that the international forces were six days ago about to make a southward movement, which, till the arrival of details or explanation, may give rise to some anxiety. Chaffee is reported to be preparing to maintain fifteen thousand men all the winter. A special cabinet conference on the Chinese situation is being held at the White House, which, coming so close on the regular Cabinet meeting of yesterday, gives rise to the belief that important developments are about to occur.

MAYOR TAYLOR STATES THE CASE.

He Thinks the Aldermen Will Adopt an Ordinance Against the Hog Pens, Effective the First af Next February.

Mayor Taylor was approached on the streets today and asked what, in his opinion, was the attitude of the Board of Aldermen toward the hog pen question. He stated that while he could not speak authoritatively as to what the Board intended doing, the matter had been under discussion since July 15th, and that, in his opinion, the Board of Aldermen would soon pass an ordinance to go into effect on February 1st, 1900, banishing the hog from the city limits.

He stated that an ordinance of this kind would work no hardship to the poor of the city who have invested their hard earned savings in a pig, as it would give them an opportunity to butcher it and at the same time put them upon notice that they must after this date seek other investments.

Another reason given by the Mayor why the ordinance should not become effective before that date was that those owning hogs, in a great many instances, had arrangements to carry off the slops, watermelon rinds, etc., of the citizens and feed them to their pigs, thus, to that extent, contributing to the cleanliness of the city. "If the hog is at present banished," said the Mayor, "the city will have to undertake the work of running garbage carts, or our last condition will be worse than the first. To do this and make a department effective and self-sustaining a small license tax will have to be charged each, which the city, under its present charter, has no right to make. The Board will ask for this privilege upon the assembling of the Legislature in January."

He further stated that the Board was as much interested in the matter as any of those who had been discussing it, and that the ordinance was assuming definite shape before the Board, even prior to the time the public began discussing it, but that the Board, being a conservative body, was looking at the question from all the different points of view before taking definite and final action.

"THE LOVE OF GOD."

Mr. Little's Splendid Sermon at Westminster Last Night—Another on "The Coming of the Spirit."

There was another large congregation at Westminster last night. Rev. Mr Little preached a sermon rich in gospel truth on "The Love of God." He preached from one of the most familiar verses of the Bible, John 3:16, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." It was a sermon of great power and pathos, and received the close and undivided attention of the congregation.

This morning at 11 o'clock Mr. Little preached his first sermon on the Holy Spirit. His theme was, "The Coming of the Spirit," and his text was, John 16:7, "Nevertheless I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away, for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; if I depart I will send Him unto you." The two leading thoughts of the sermon were the importance of the Spirit's work, and the conditions of the Spirit's coming. It was a forceful and helpful sermon, delivered with fervor and fluency.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, Mr. Little will preach on "The Worth of the Soul." Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock he will preach his second sermon on the "Holy Ghost"—his theme will be "The names of the Holy Spirit as indicative of His offices and work." A most cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend these services.

ALL DEAD AGIN THE SWINE.

COL. LYON INTERVIEWS THE PEOPLE

He Puts In a Whole Day Talking About The Removal of the Pig Pens From the City, and Says That There Never Was Such a Popular Uprising—He Publishes The Result of His Talks, Which Makes An Interesting Contribution to the Literature Already Extant on the Subject.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

I put in yesterday talking with people on the subject of removing the hogs and hog pens from the city of Greensboro. Here are a few of the expressions I got. Mr. Editor, please publish them so that it may be seen how the people are talking and feeling on the subject. I give as nearly as possible the exact words of those interviewed. I have never before seen the people so thoroughly aroused or more determined on anything than they are to rid the city of hog pens.

T. A. LYON.

E. D. Golden: I had some hogs and found that they annoyed my neighbors and I sold them. I am opposed to the hog pen in the city.

Milton Cunningham: The hog pens on Summit avenue are simply unbearable. Why don't the city move them out?

C. N. McAdoo: The hog pen nuisance is not tolerated in any decent city in the South, and why should Greensboro be the exception?

C. M. Vanstory: The hog pens should be put out of the city. I do not like to put a hardship on any one, but the health of the city is of more importance than the interest of a few.

Capt. John Y. Smith: No hog pens for me. I have long since done away with hogs. Put them out of town.

J. R. McClamroch: I don't like hogs no how. Put 'em out and that for good.

T. T. Brooks: Move them out. The doctors say they are a source of disease.

T. M. Pickard: I have four fine hogs, but am in favor of putting them out of town. Let the law go into effect February 1. This will no doubt meet the approval of the people.

Bob Pickard: Any way will suit me. Let them go if it will benefit the health of the city.

John Michaux: Let the hogs go. We don't need them in town.

Mon. Whittington: I don't keep hogs any more because they annoyed my neighbors. Let them go.

Jim Tomlinson: Two pigs under a fence will make more fuss than one pig. Let them git out.

Dr. Battle: I think the city would be much cleaner without the pig pens.

Capt. Walsh: No pigs or pig pens for me.

Mon Rees: A razor-back hog is the only one I ever saw that could not run a nigger, but let them go.

Cam Smith: Move the hog pens. They are the greatest nuisance on earth.

Will Forbis: Let them go. They are a nuisance.

Dr. Wilson: Get the hog pens out of town. I was coming up East Market street this morning and the stench from the hog pens was dreadful.

Howard Gardner: The health of the city demands that the hog pens must go.

Royal Farrar: The hog pens don't concern me in any way.

Judge Eller: Got no hogs and don't ever intend to keep any. They are a nuisance and so are dogs.

Jno. B. Wright: I am unalterably opposed to the hog pen nuisance. Move them out of the city.

H. Jacobs: Don't want any hog pens in mine. Would be glad to see them out of the city. The city is too big now. I would rather see bar rooms than hog pens.

J. E. Cartland: Please take the hog pens out of my neighborhood.

James Evans: They should be abolished. There are hog pens in the city which are so foul that the flies have blown the air for a hundred yards each way.

Chas. Maus: Let the hogs go.

Grasty Fowler: Let the hogs stay in town, but put the pens outside.

Gaston Ward: I am in favor of the hog pens staying in town, but not on Main street.

Mrs. Howard: The hog pens are a

Conference to Meet in Raleigh—Work for the Association of the Agricultural Commissioners of the Cotton States—The Wild Run of a Female Patient from the Hospital.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 29.—The white Republicans appear to be a unit in declaring they are heartily glad that the negro Congressman, George H. White, is going to leave. Some of them say he ought to settle in Washington, which they term the paradise of the negro. One Republican said that the negroes "boss" Washington now, but that some day before long there will be a demonstration by the whites there which will make the "brother in black" take a back seat and be mighty glad to get that.

The State amends the charter of the Morrow Bros: & Heath Company, of Stanly county, so as to allow it to build and operate cotton mills there and to increase its $30,000 capital to $100,000.

Mr. W. P. Perkins, of Ashe county, is appointed to a scholarship in the Peabody Normal College. It is very notable that almost all the appointees to scholarships are from Western North Carolina, in fact, from the mountain county. Dr. Mebane, State superintendent of public instruction, says the reason is that they specially prepare themselves.

Yesterday one of the female patients at the hospital for the insane, while being taken out for exercise in the grounds, made a sudden dash and ran like a deer into Southwest Raleigh, crossing little streams and scaling fences with wonderful agility. The police and some women caught her. She was wet and muddy to the waist, but was not in the least injured. She said she felt like she ought to run away.

President Charles McNamee, of the State Agricultural Society, sails for Europe this week but will return a few days before the fair in October.

Some superstitious people are freely expressing the belief that there will never again be cold weather. They will sing another song before January 15.

Dr. J. M. Ayer has returned from Europe. He says it is very pitiful to see the parched and sun-scorched fields of Virginia and North Carolina, with their withering and fast ruining crops, after seeing the well-ordered greenness and luxuriance of the Old World's crops.

Rev. C. H. King, negro preacher here, has issued a call today for a negro conference at Raleigh Sept. 26. It is by an association of which he is the president and Dr. H. A. M. Moore, of Durham, the secretary, and is for the purpose of considering educational, industrial and political matters. It is said it will largely discuss the franchise amendment. By the way, it is no secret that the educated negroes do not care two pins that the amendmendment is ratified. It is insignificant that they are also "souring" on the white Republicans.

Dr. Richard H. Lewis, secretary to the State Board of Health, says there is five times as much smallpox in the State now as there was a year ago; that is, five time as many foci of disease.

The second annual convention of the Association of Agricultural Commissioners of the Cotton States, began afternoon yesterday, in the pretty little lecture hall in the agricultural building. The attendance was small. Of the visitors there were only Commissioners Stevens, of Georgia, and Redhead, of Mississippi, State Chemist McCandless, of Georgia, Prof. H. C. White, of the University of Georgia, R. J. Roddy, director of the government experiment stations, and Secretary Royale Daniel of the Association. The audience was made up of the agricultural department and college here, State officials, etc. It is said in explanation of the small attendance from other States, that one commissioner lost the renomination and of course, felt no interest in coming and that another does not go into office until next January. Dr. Charles W. Dabney was expected from Tennessee, but is in Europe, it is discovered. It was expected that every commissioner would have been here. It was stated today that more delegates would arrive tonight and tomorrow.

Rev. Dr. M. M. Marshall prayed after President Stevens, of Georgia, had called the Association to order.

Governor Russell made a very appropriate speech of welcome in behalf of the State, and was followed by R. N. Simms, of Raleigh, member of the Legislature, who made a capital talk in his welcome of the visitors to this city. John S. Cuningham was to have made the speech of welcome on behalf of the Board of Agriculture but was detained at home by the death of a relative, and Commissioner S. L. Patterson made the speech He spoke highly of North Carolina's progress, saying its State Museum was an object less unrivalled in all the South.

The response was by Prof. White, of the University of Ga., who took occasion to pay a tribute to the great work done by the University of North Carolina, the Agricultural and Mechanical College and the Agricultural Department and the latter's notable museum, and said this State sits a grand example in diversifying agriculture and in developing the industrial department upon agriculture. Commissioner Redhead, of Mississippi, also spoke in response. He said his State was largely settled by North Carolinians, and declared that North Carolina was in the forefront of all the South in the matter of industrial progress and that this was anywhere understood. He further that this North Carolina was the State to visit in order to get valuable practical ideas.

Last evening the United States Secretary of Agriculture addressed the convention, and in a very practical and much appreciated way.

Mr. McCollum, of Robeson county, of the State Board of Agriculture who is here, says the drought and heat have cut off the crops in his section of the State, so that the loss of cotton is one-third and of corn one-half.

Post Office Special Agent Connally who arrested J. L. York at Fayetteville, on a charge of fraudulently using the mails, spoke today most interestingly about York. He says the latter was born at Liberty, Randolph county, and that he understood he had been run out of Greensboro and Wilmington, that his factories had been twice burned, under suspicious circumstances; that he was a bred swindler, got $80 worth of gayly colored lithographed letter heads and envelopes from St. Louis and never paid a cent for them; and on the strength of these flaming letter heads he got all sorts of things, lumber from South Carolina, tar roofing, oils from Philadelphia, never paying for any.

terrible nuisance and we fully realize it in my neighborhood.

Jno. B. Fariss: Kick the hog pens out. This ought to have been done fifteen years ago.

Dr. Scott: The hog pen, from a sanitary standpoint, is dangerous.

King Bros: Run the hog pens out.

W. T. Stewart: It is a shame to allow the hog pens to be in the city.

Henry Wharton: Move the hog pens out. "Them's my sentiments."

Lee Wharton: I am in favor of putting the hog pens out of town.

Hinkle Bros: Think the hog pens should be put outside the city limits.

M. B. Shrier: Put the hog pens outside. We are trying to build up a city and not a vil'age.

Dave Collins: Let the hog pens go outside the city limits. Put on carts to carry off the garbage and let us do all we can for the health of the city.

R. W. Brooks: If it is best for the health of the city, let the hogs go.

J. M. Hendrix: Let the hogs go. The sooner the better.

Rob t. Caldcleugh: Move them out They are a nuisance and a menace to the health of the city.

Dr. Brodnax: Get rid of the hogs every time.

Mr. Smithdeal: So far as I am concerned I would like to see them go.

J. C. Morris: I would like to sign four hundred petitions to get rid of the hogs.

J. L. Brockmann: So far as I am personally concerned I would like to see the hog pens go.

Tom McLean; I have always been in favor of putting the hog pens out of town.

W. A. McKnight: The pens ought to be out of town.

W. G. Beasley: The hogs ought to be put out of town. I don't think a few families should keep hogs when it is so objectionable to their neighbors.

G. A. Rankin: The hog pens should go. They are a nuisance to any community.

Will Alderman: I would like to get rid of this very great and trying nuisance.

C. H. Dorsett: The hog pens are a nuisance.

David Scott: Let the hog pens go. The very idea of passing a law prohibiting people from spitting on the sidewalks and then allow the city to be befouled and disgraced in the eyes of decent people, with a lot of hog pens stuck under our noses.

J. T. B. Shaw: The pens should be moved out of town.

Sam Norris: The hog pens are a veritable nuisance and I am surprised that the Aldermen should allow such a nuisance to exist in the city.

Will Mathews: Get them out of town.

M. Schiffman: Get them out. They are a veritable nuisance.

F. F. Smith: I am in favor of running the hogs out of town after February 1, 1901. I have four fine hogs which will now weigh 200 pounds each. I keep their pen clean and it gives no offence. But others do not keep their hog pens clean and thereby give offence to their neighbors and create a nuisance. For these reasons I am willing to stop raising hogs in town

Bob Murray: The hog pens are a nuisance and should go.

John Merritt: I stopped raising hogs because it was a nuisance and a menace to the health of the city.

Milton Shields: Of all the nuisances of earth, it is a hog pen. There is one on Summit avenue you can smell five miles.

Giles Mabene: I am agin' the hog.

Mr. Fortune: Do away with the hog pens. I am surprised that the city tolerates them for a moment.

Shaw Bros: We will vote against the hog pen. There is plenty room for them in the country.

W. E. Allen: Would like to see the hog pens out of town.

Capt. Fry: I am in favor of putting them out of the city. I have suffered much in consequence of this terrible nuisance.

C. W. Petty: Let them go. The sooner the better.

W. T. Smith: I can't do the subject justice, I am so opposed to the dirty nuisance.

R. S. Petty: I have been living here four years and have been thoroughly disgusted with the hog pen nuisance.

J. W. Jones: Take them out of town. It is a shame that the people should tolerate such a nuisance.

S. M. Peters: The hog pens are a veritable nuisance on Ashe street. Please move them outside.

L. Richardson: Out of town with the nuisance.

Tom Gregory: I am unalterably opposed to the hog hens. Go out on Summit avenue and get a whiff.

A. G. Stroud: Run the hogs out of town.

Frank Thornton: I am in favor of running the hog pens out of town.

Dr. Michaux: The hog pens ought to be removed. Every citizen who has the best interest of the city at heart should exert every energy to run them out.

T. W. Postell: Put me down as opposed to hog pens in the city.

C. A. Pike: Run them out at once.

Ike Jordan: Get them out as soon as possible.

R. H. Brooks: I am in favor of banishing the hog pens from the incorporate limits.

Garland Daniels: I think hog pens are a nuisance.

Capt. O'Brien: The hog pens ought to go.

C. E. Holton: The hog pens ought to have been run out of town long ago.

J. H. Wright: I am in favor of putting the hog pens outside. It is very offensive as well as dangerous to health to visit in the neighborhood of these hog pens, after dark.

Col. Osborn: I have a hog pen, but am in favor of putting them outside.

A. W. Vickory: Let them go.

B. L. Beall: If you send the hogs outside, send also the garbage.

W. C. Ogborn: Run them out of town.

J. H. Boone: Run them out.

C. O. Forbis: Run them out.

Spence Keeling: Run them out.

J. D. Jones: Run them out.

L. H. Battle: I would run them all out if I could.

E. L. Sides: Run them out of town.

R. K. Gregory, M. D: Besides being a stinking nuisance they are hot-beds for breeding germs which produce various deadly diseases and should not be allowed in any city.

J. D. White: I am opposed to moving the hog pens out of town. I dare the Board of Aldermen to pass a law against them. If they do we will bury them out of sight at the next election.

G. Sam Bradshaw: I am against the hog pens—move them out.

Solicitor Brooks: I am opposed to having hog pens in town.

Judge Adams: I had no idea that our city would allow the hog pens to remain in town. Did not know that such a thing existed. Am surprised that the nuisance does really exist.

L. M. Sturgis: Of course I am opposed to hog pens in town.

Ben Sharp: Move all the hogs to Randolph county, the sooner the better. I am opposed to hog pens in the city.

Bob Marks: I am opposed to hog pens. Go down in my part of town and take a few whiffs that come sailing down Mebane street and you will get enough of them.

Will Reece: Get them out of town.

G. Will Armfield: There are no hog pens in my part of the city. I am not in favor of hog pens in town.

Jack Wolf: I am the hog's friend and shall do all I can to keep him in town. We smashed you once before on this question and we are going to do it again. Let the hogs alone.

Policeman Pearce: No hog pens for me.

Peter Ray: I do not keep pigs. I moved to West Market and my neighbors do not keep hogs, so I cannot say about the nuisance.

C. G. Wright: Drive them out.

J. M. Baley: I am against the hog pen nuisance. Get them out of town.

M. T. Egerton: Am opposed to the hog pens in the city.

Dr. Lash: I am against the hog pen nuisance.

Col. Morehead: I had rather have a smallpox epidemic than a hog pen epidemic—or the results of hog pens—which means diptheria, fever, etc. I have suffered for eight years in consequence of this terrible nuisance.

Bob King: I live in the country and cannot be affected.

Jno. L. King: I am not feeling well.

R. M. Allbright: I am against them.

C. Mebane: I am opposed to hog pens.

B. B. Boulden: I am agin hog pens.

Dr. Baum: I am against the hog pen and can't see how any self-respecting man could be otherwise. Do you?

E. L. Tate: Opposed to hog pens.

Jno. Gilmer: Run them out quick, so a fellow can sleep in some peace in my neighborhood.

C. M. Lamb: Close them out at any old price.

R. M. Crawford: I am in favor of getting the pens out of town in February.

Dr. Wheeler: Let them go.

Jas Ad. Hodgins: I am opposed to the hog pens. They are simply awful and a dangerous nuisance.

Sanitary Officer Alexander: No hog pens for me. They are simply awful, sir, and give us more trouble than all all other nuisances. I do wish they were out of town, as they are a nuisance all over town.

E. R. Carter: Do away with the hog pens.

Charles Cline: Abolish the hog pens.

Captain Hall: Get rid of them.

Carl Wheeler: I am in favor of moving the hog pens out of town.

John Thomas: Do away with them.

H. C. Berger: I am in favor of abolishing the hog pens.

L. J. Brandt: They are a nuisance and ought to be run out at once.

J. B. Clendenin. I want them out of town.

W. B. Leonard: I am opposed to hog pens.

W. M. Adams: Run them out of town. I will put up some money to get rid of them.

H. G. Harrington: Opposed to hogs.

R. E. Hunt: Out with them.

Oscar Pearce: I am against hog pens in the city.

H. H. Tate: Get them out.

P. D. Gold, Jr.: Run them out.

Policeman Merritt: Run them out.

Will Rankins: Run them out.

Col Staples: I am against the hog pens. Run them out.

Judge W. P. Bynum, Jr.: I am surprised that the city aldermen should allow such a menace and danger to the health of our people, to exist. There are several of these pens in my neighborhood and they are so offensive that we cannot sit on our front porches.

Capt. Gray: Abolish the nuisance. The quicker the better.

E. T. Garsed: I am opposed to the hog pens. Run them out.

J. S. Gouldin: Run them out.

A. A. Chandler: Run them out.

Jno. Scall: Anything to run them out of town.

A. G. Hume: Against the hog pens.

Julian Price: Run them out of the city; is no place to raise hogs.

Capt. R. O. Whitaker: The hogs are a disgrace to civilization. I never lived in a town before that made any pretention, that would allow them.

WEDNESDAY AUGUST 29, 1900.

Says the Wilmington Dispatch:

A great many people regard the result of the Senatorial primary as known in advance, yet the count promises to be more or less interesting. Several types of popularity are in the field and the degree to which each will make votes is a matter of some uncertainty.

To which it might not be out of way to add that something else other than types of popularity is in the field, too.

President McKinley yesterday appointed ex-Presidents Harrison and Cleveland as two of the four members which each country is entitled to on the international board of arbitration suggested by the Hague Peace Conference. Two more eminent citizens could not have been found by the President, and their appointment to a position which should be one of so much dignity was in very fine taste.

The Raleigh Fair will this year emphasize the educational department. Among the premiums will be a set of thirty-four bound volumes, offered the school that makes the best exhibit along certain lines. We commend this idea to the managers of the Central Carolina Fair.

Richard Crocker says that ten per cent. of the people of this country are running the other ninety per cent. The fact that the Honorable Richard is one of the select ten per centers does not alter the truth of his assertion.

The Philadelphia Ledger asks why should Governor Roosevelt make any speeches in the present campaign. No doubt the Republican managers allow him to do this for fear he'll do worse.

A cotton mill at Charleston has tried negro labor and found that the work and pay offered by the mill could not compete successfully with the "festerbuls" of the neighborhood.

"The prostrate Democracy" is the way the esteemed Fayetteville Observer describes the section of the party that has not sold out to McKinley, the negroes or the gold bugs.

President McKinley has solved the problem which some years ago so greatly exercised some of our magazine writers, to wit: What to do with our ex-presidents.

A citizen of Florida, 122 years old, was drowned the other day while fishing. Boys will be drowned as long as they are allowed to go near the creek alone.

Newark, N. J. has a billy goat that drinks whiskey to excess. And thus has another poor "hathen" been ruined by the allurements of civilization.

If all the parties that are counting on the "German vote" this year get it, that much-sought-for article will go a long way.

Greensboro may be short on some things, but she holds a full hand when it comes to the matter of poets.

Is the vote in South Carolina yesterday sufficient to start the bards to singing of the "passing of Tillman?"

A LAW THAT DIED A'BORNIN'.

GREENSBORO'S CURFEW ORDINANCE.

A Subscriber Wishes to Know What Has Become of This Great Moral Reform Law Adopted Some Time Ago—The "Kids," He Says, Make Night Hideous in His Section of Town—Their Parents Cannot, or Will Not, Keep the Offsprings at Home.

A subscriber writes The Telegram:

I wish you would say something concerning an ordinance adopted about two years ago in regard to keeping certain persons off the street at night, after certain hours. These young kids make night hideous down our way, and the officers pay no attention at all to them. It seems to me that nothing is being done in our town by the proper persons for the protection of the young, but they are allowed to roam at will. If the parents can't keep them in, won't the officers of the town help?

The only reminder of a Curfew law in Greensboro is the dim recollection of such an ordinance having been adopted by the Board of Aldermen some time ago. It evidently sank into oblivion before the ink that recorded the ordinance became dry on the records of this great and good city. No one ever explained why the law was enacted. Certainly it could not have been with the idea of enforcing it, for if a fine has been collected or a single wayward youth had his feet turned homeward when the town clock tolled the hour of nine, it does not appear in the records of the city government or the mind of any individual.

So then one is forced to the conclusion that the law was conceived and enacted at a time when the select members of the town council were suffering from ennui. Smallpox had not then appeared in our midst to frighten innocent and trusting citizens and cause the guardians of the city's welfare to lie awake o' nights devising schemes for the protection of the populace against the insidious scourge. Bond issues, with the attendant questions of interest, premiums, etc., were not engaging the time and attention of these wise and prudent men. The city water was reasonably clear, although the pressure was weak, and negotiations had not been entered into for the purchase of the plant. Time hung heavily in the council room, and in casting around for some innocent diversion a Curfew law was conceived and brought forth amid the mingled applause and jeers of the people.

So the law was born, and so the law died. It did not become a dead letter, for the simple reason that it was stillborn.

THE LADIES ARE THANKFUL.

They Appreciate the Services of Those Who Made Last Night's Entertainment a Success.

The ladies of the Charity and Help Committee of West Market Street Epworth League desire to thank most heartily the following persons who so kindly assisted in making last evenings entertainment a success:

The owners of the Banner Warehouse for the much appreciated use of their building.

The Telegram and Daily Record for the valuable space in their columns during the past week; the young ladies and gentlemen who so kindly assisted in the "Living Library;" the Home Orchestra for their delightful rendition of a most delightful program; the parents and children, who, by their faithful efforts, made the "Tom Thumb Wedding" one of the prettiest scenes ever witnessed in Greensboro; Mrs. G. W. Whitsett and Mrs. Jos. J. Stone for their efficient management of the "Living Library;" Messrs. Goldstein & Shevel and Mr. Forbis for the kind loan of chairs; Caldcleugh Bros. for dishes loaned; Mesdames Pearce, Dodson and Williams for flowers; those who so ably served refreshments, and all those who in any way contributed to the success of the evening.

MISS JANIE GREGORY,
MRS WILL CARR,
MISS HATTIE ELDRIDGE,
Committee.

I and My.

The pronouns "I" and "my" are greatly to be avoided in general conversation. "I" do this or that; "my" children are so and so; "my" cook, "my" house, "my" equipages—such iteration sets terribly on the nerves of the listener, besides being in very bad form.—New York Tribune.

All men of genius are said to have eyes clear, slow moving and bright. This is the eye which indicates mental ability of some kind, it doesn't matter what.

Good chairs are the most difficult pieces of old furniture to find. They received harder use than other pieces of furniture and consequently wore out quicker.

High Point Will Have Another Laundry.

Correspondence of The Telegram.

High Point, Aug. 28.—Rev. and Mrs. S. D. Stamey, of Randleman, spent last night with the family of Mrs. H. F. Stamey, on their return home from a visit to relatives in the western part of the State.

Mr. John Sechrest and sister, Miss Rosella, went to Oak Ridge this morning to visit relatives and friends.

Several cases occupied the attention of the Mayor last night.

Miss Annie Reynolds, of Greensboro, is visiting the Misses Sechrest on East Washington street.

The officers of the law are finding goods in several places which were carried off during the fire of last Tuesday.

High Point is to have another steam laundry right away. A gentleman from Burlington was here yesterday and today, and made arrangements to move his plant here. It will be located at the old tan yard place in the northwestern part of the city. This is a suitable location for the business.

Mr. Wilkinson, who lost his laundry in the recent fire here, also expresses his intention of moving back at an early date. If he comes, High Point will then have two steam laundries. The more the merrier, I suppose.

Rev. M. A. Kelsey, pastor of the Friends church here, has tendered his resignation and with his family, will leave next week for the West, where after visiting awhile he will take up his work again. Our people have learned to like Mr. Kelsey and his estimable family and with no little regret they part with them.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

Out of Moody's Joker.

D. L. Moody was always full of fun. He saw the comic side of things, and as a boy enjoyed putting practical jokes upon any one whom he well knew. In the rear of his Uncle Samuel's retail shoe store in Boston was a cobbler's repair kit—seat, tools, awls, etc., and the seat was, as usual, a piece of leather concavely shaped downward at its center.

One day the workman on this saucer shaped seat felt it becoming uncomfortably damp, then really moist. He rose and saw a damp spot on the seat. Supposing that a few drops of water had been accidentally dropped upon the seat before he sat down to his work, he folded an old newspaper and placed it and sat comfortably down to resume his work. But the moisture seemed strangely persistent. Rising again, he found the paper becoming soaked with water, and he stood perplexed, his hammer in one hand and the soft, wet paper in the other.

Looking this way and that in his perplexity, he soon heard a half chuckle, half snicker, which could no longer be repressed, and there behind the door was the country boy, learning how to be useful in a city shoe store, as he really and rapidly did, but taking his fun as he went along. He had placed a shallow dish of water close up to the underside of the center of the leather seat, which only touched the water when the weight of the occupant was upon it, so three or four small awl holes served his purpose for that time.—Congregationalist.

China's Oldest Society.

The oldest society in China is the Triad society, known also as the "Sam Hop Hui." It has its lodges, and there are flags, banners and umbrellas connected with it. It holds regular meetings, and it forces influential individuals to join its organization if they are not amenable to persuasion. It has the power of life and death over its members, who have their own signs and passwords. You can tell, it is said, whether a man belongs to the order by the way he enters a house. Their motto is, "Drive out the Tartars," and one branch of the society dates back to 1664 A. D., or twenty years after the conquest.

DEMENTED FROM HEAT.

A Wilmington Man Loses His Mind at Wrightsville and Walks to Wimington.

Wilmington Star.

Mr. L. L. Bland, of No. 405 Campbell street, lost his mind Saturday by becoming exhausted from heat and his condition is still unchanged. Dr. Andrew H. Harris was called in to see Mr. Bland Saturday night as soon as his condition was ascertained, and after examination decided that it was exhaustion that caused him to be demented but thought his mind would be restored in a few days.

The circumstances in the case were very sad and at the same time very peculiar. Saturday morning Bland and his wife went to Wrightsville on the train to visit Mrs. Bland's relatives. Soon after their arrival there it was noticed that Mr. Bland was acting in a very peculiar manner but no especial attention was paid to him. He expressed a strong desire to take the mid day train and return to the city. It seems that before he arrived at the station his mind was completely gone and he wandered along the shell road and finally reached the city on foot. Without being noticed or given any assistance he reached home at 8 o'clock that night, but his mind was so deranged that he was not conscious of being at home.

He attempted to leave soon after and asked his reasons for doing so, he replied that his wife was lost and he wanted to look for her.

He is not at all dangerous and occasionally shows some intelligence. His many friends and those of his family wish for him a speedy recovery. He is a member of the carpenter force in the A. C. L. yard.

GEO. WHITE TO LEAVE.

He Says That He Cannot Live in North Carolina Without Being Made to Feel His Race Inferiority.

News and Observer.

George H. White. negro Congessman, tells the New York Times that he will leave North Carolina because he cannot longer live in the State "without being made to feel that I belong to an inferior race." He will go to New York or some other Northern State and will not run for Congress again. He advises the negroes to leave and go West and predicts that 50,000 will leave within the next ten years. He says there are too many negroes in the South—"that's the trouble." He adds:

"I don't believe the black man has much relief in any political party. He must paddle his own canoe. He must think for himself and act for himself. Legislation will not help him. Senator Pritchard said in a recent speech before the Republican State Convention that the white people pretended not to want the negro in office, and he called their attention to the fact that the Supreme Court of the State has said that the Legislature has power to pass legislation of local government, giving to certain classes the right to hold office. Senator Pritchard in that speech said that if the Democrats meant what they said about preventing negroes from holding office he would join them in passing the joint Assembly legislation placing those counties in which colored people are in the majority under white control. The fact is, the white Republicans of North Carolina are Republicans in order to get the negro vote to maintain them in office, but they do not want the negroes to hold office."

The Sole Advantage.

Durham Herald.

We are afraid some of our brethren who have been so bold as to favor a higher plane in politics will be read out of the party. One of the advantages of being independent in politics is that you can think, talk and vote as you please without being jacked up by every little fellow who is trying to make himself solid with his party.

DEATH OF THE RADS AND POPS.

PUBLISHED BY REQUEST.

The Democrats have again shown their hand
And swept the Rads and Pops from the land,
And Mari-an trembles in his shoes
To hear the most heart-rending news.

The Rads and Pops get beat again
For the news comes up from Wayne,
New Hanover skunked them in the game
And Edgecombe did the same.

The Rads and Pops have met a terrible blow,
Old Mecklenburg came out and killed them dead,
And Robeson just as stout
Rose in her might and laid them out.

Oh! Mari-an what an awful fate
For the Democrats to sweep your State,
But 'tis no use for you to cry,
Just bid the Rads and Pops good bye.

Rads and Pops are dying fast,
Their history is in the past:
The gates are closed and tightly barred
They die, but O, how hard.

It was old Mecklenburg that struck the blow,
Which laid the Rads and Pops so low;
But Roberson done her part
She drove the dagger to their heart.

The Rads and Pops got badly skunked
For now their Moses is defunct;
We sympathize, but cannot cry,
Good-bye, Rads and Pops, good-bye.

Go home Rads and Pops and take your humble seat
And study over your defeat,
No use to cry for that is vain,
You never will get back again.

Four years ago you had it all your way
And boasted you had come to say,
Then you were lord of all,
But now your starch is seen to fall.

The Rads and Pops are growing weak,
They hardly can be heard to speak;
Her Moses has no power to save
So we will lay them in the grave.

Halifax take your crowd
And go to work and make the shroud,
But make it out of the cheapest lawn
And Wayne will put it on.

Wake, you have done so fine,
You make a box of yellow pine
And make a breast plate out of tin,
And Northampton will put the bodies in.

Come old Guilford and take your part
And put the bodies in the cart;
Rockingham strike the funeral kneel—
Farewell, Rads and Pops, farewell.

I clear forgot bless my soul;
Granville have you dug the hole?
We'll let Lenoir take her round
And lay the bodies in the ground.

We've laid corruption's body low:
The last good act we can bestow
Let all the counties join in the song,
But don't let it be too long.

Come old Johnson stand in line
We know that loyal heart of thine
And tell us where the hymn is found
"Hark, from the tomb a doleful sound."

Let the bodies now repose
Until the last loud trumpet blows
While we scatter flowers upon the grave
And the Gate City band the funeral dirge play
Let all the counties drop a silent tear,
Then solemnly march; march away.

A Joke on Offenbach.

M. Ernest Blum told a joke which he and some friends played on Offenbach when "La Belle Helene" was about to be produced. The composer was most anxious that his airs should not get about before the first night and had asked all his company to be most careful not to let any one hear them, but his tunes were so catchy that it was impossible to help singing them.

One day Blum and his friends were sitting opposite Offenbach in a cafe when one of them began to hum a leading air of "La Belle Helene."

"Who taught you that?" cried Offenbach in a rage.

"No one," replied Blum. "I have known it for ages," and they all agreed that their nurses used to sing it to them when they were children. Presently Albert Wolff, who was one of the party, began to sing another of the airs.

"What!" cried Offenbach, "you know that too?"

"I composed it myself," said Wolff.

Offenbach then saw that they were playing a practical joke on him and demanded the name of the singer who had sung them the opera. They refused, and so the composer threatened that he would fine every one in the theater unless they told him. So Blum and his friends stood up and began the first chorus of the first act and declared they would sing the finale before the whole cafe unless Offenbach relented. The composer, in terror for his music, gave in, beaten by his own facility in writing music.

ARE THEY RIGHT? If they are you should be thankful If they are not right you wrong them by trying to deceive yourself into the belief that they are, By timely heed of the little eye warnings you avoid the big ones that are sure to follow neglect. Remember the children's eyes.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and otheaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

A NIGHT OF TORTURE

IT BROUGHT A FORTUNE TO ITS INNOCENT VICTIM.

Twice Strung Up by Lynchers, He Confessed to Murder and Was Afterward Vindicated and Recovered $25,000 From His Assailants.

Late in the fifties George W. King was the proprietor of a hotel in Oxford, 26 miles from Lafayette, Ind. In 1859 a stranger arrived at the hotel and gave his name as Dr. Rowe. He told King that he had no money and asked to be trusted for his board till he could get practice in the place, promising to pay him as promptly as possible. King consented to the arrangement, and Rowe soon became a favorite with the people on account of his companionable disposition and superior intelligence. The doctor, however, fell deeper and deeper in debt. He had been at the hotel for nearly a year when King reminded him one morning that he had not paid anything on his board bill for three months. The conversation, it afterward appeared, was overheard by some one in the hotel, though nothing was thought of it at the time.

A week after the conversation Rowe was called out late at night to see a patient and failed to return. Days passed without any word from him, and his disappearance soon was connected with the conversation that had passed between him and the landlord about the unpaid board. One night three months later a party of disguised men entered the hotel and, overpowering King, took him to a woodland adjoining the town.

He recognized the voices of several of his captors and especially of the leader, who told him that he was suspected of murdering Rowe and demanded that he confess. King stoutly maintained his innocence, and the leader of the mob ordered his companions "to string him up." A rope was placed around his neck, a dozen men pulled down a stout limb, over which the other end of the rope was thrown, and when the limb was released it carried King off his feet and left him hanging by the neck. He was nearly unconscious when let down and again ordered to confess.

After much delay he was restored sufficiently to understand what was said to him, and he again refused, declaring his innocence and saying he did not know what had become of Rowe. A second time he was strung up and a second time let down, but life was nearly extinct, and he was much longer in being restored than before.

The luckless landlord knew he could not pass through another such ordeal and live, so he consented to confess. He purposely lengthened the confession in order to gain time, and said that he and two men, named Rogers and Haggard, had poisoned some whisky and induced Rowe to drink it, and after his death they had buried him in a hollow some distance away. It was nearly daylight when the confession was made, and the lynchers determined to take King to jail in Lafayette and then arrest Rogers and Haggard.

Before the jail was reached day had dawned, and King recognized his captors as members of the Horse Thief Detective company of Benton, Warren and Tippecanoe counties, nearly all of whom were known to him. Confident of his guilt, the men made no attempt to conceal their indentity. So great was the excitement and so intense the feeling against King that he waived examination and went to jail, hoping that something would turn up to establish his innocence.

From the jail at Lafayette King addressed letters to editors of papers in Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville and other cities, setting out the circumstances of his confinement and asking them to keep his letter in the papers in hopes that it might fall under Rowe's notice. The appeal was a pathetic one and was copied into many papers throughout the northwest.

Two weeks after its first appearance Dr. Rowe rode into Oxford and, attended by a number of citizens, proceeded to Lafayette, where his appearance caused the immediate release of the accused landlord. In explanation of his disappearance Rowe said he had left his home in the east on account of domestic troubles; that he had learned that his wife was on her way to Oxford and he had determined to leave the place secretly in order to prevent her from learning where he had gone. He had gone to a little town in southern Illinois, and it was there that he learned that the man who had befriended him was suspected of his murder and was in jail in Lafayette.

As soon as King was released he brought suit against 32 members of the Horse Thief Detective company for $5,000 each and also against the company as a corporation. Thomas A. Hendricks, afterward vice president, was his counsel, but the case was not allowed to come to trial, the lynchers compromising by paying King $25,000. With this money he purchased a farm and other property near Lafayette, where he lived till his death, at the age of 78 years.—Indianapolis Correspondence.

A LIVE COAL TRICK.

Teaches Natural Law, Yet Has All the Appearance of Magic.

No one would suppose that it is possible to hold a glowing coal on a piece of linen or cotton without burning the cloth, but that such can be done is easy for any one to prove, and at the same time the experiment teaches an important natural law. Every child knows that the telephone and telegraph wires are made of copper because that metal is a good conductor of heat and electricity, which is only another form of heat. If a poker is heated in the fire, you pick up a cloth to hold the outer end, although it has not been in the fire, because experience has taught you that the heat is connected through the metal from the fire to the outer end.

This experiment with the flaming coal is based upon this principle and the additional one that linen and cotton are poor conductors of heat. Take a globe of copper and draw a piece of cloth tightly over it so that there is not a wrinkle at the top. If the linen or cotton is closely woven, the trick is all the more certain. Then, holding the cloth tightly in place, you can safely put a glowing coal on top of the cloth, and, while it burns fiercely, the cloth will not even be scorched.

The reason is that the great conductivity of the copper draws the heat of the coal before it can burn the cloth. Do not try this experiment with a good handkerchief first, for if the cloth is not tightly drawn it may burn, but take some worthless piece of linen or muslin, and after you are certain of your experience you can astonish your friends who do not know the secret.—Washington Post.

The Miners Are Their Friends.

Mountain rats in the mines in Colorado are about as big as wharf rats, but they have a bushy tail, like a squirrel, and are pets of the miners. Whenever the luncheon hour comes you will see the fellows come from their holes or nests or wherever they live in the intervals between meals, squat on their haunches and sit there until one of the miners shares his dinner with them. Whatever they get of the scraps of that meal they sit up and eat just as a squirrel does. The miner does not exist that would not share his meal with them.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. THE WEATHER.

For North Carolina: Generally fair tonight. Local rains and thunderstorms Thursday. Light to fresh northeast winds.

Highest temperature at Greensboro past twenty-four hours ending eight o'clock this morning 94, lowest 71.

A DAY'S EVENTS.

Some of the Happenings in Greensboro Briefly Recorded.

W. A. Watson & Co's roller mill is being repainted.

Mr. W. A. Hennessee is sick today at his home on Asheboro street.

Rev. A. G. Kirkman is assisting in the camp meeting service at Bethlehem church, ten miles south of town.

Mr. Ed. Cartland will leave this week for Mebane to enter Bingham School for the coming term.

The northbound noon train, No. 36, was run in two sections today, the second section arriving at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The W. C. T. U. will meet in Grace Methodist Protestant church tomorrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock. All members will please be present.

The condition of Mr. J. A. Byrd, who is ill at his home on North Greene street, is critical in the extreme. His death is expected at any time.

Mr. Charles Fields has taken a temporary position at Mr. G. W. Denny's grocery store. He will shortly go to work as a fireman on the Southern's yard at this place.

There will be preaching at Westminster Presbyterian church this evening at 8 o'clock and again at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Mr. Little's subject tonight will be "The Worth of the Soul."

Mr. Ney Forbis, one of the most talented young musicians in the city, has added the piano to the list of instruments upon which he performs. He recently purchased an Emerson from John B. Wright's music store. Mr. Forbis plays the clarionet in the Gate City Band.

Two Young Professors.

Mr. Louis G. Beall, who is to teach chemistry and physics in Bingham School, Asheville, left for that place this morning to enter upon the duties of his position.

Mr. L. W. Crawford, Jr., who was recently elected a member of the faculty of Rutherford College, also left this morning.

Both of these young men have enjoyed superior educational advantages and are well equipped for teaching. The best wishes of a multitude of friends in Greensboro follow them.

No Paupers In Wichita.

The board of county commissioners of Wichita county, Kan., has just abolished the poorhouse, there being no more paupers in the county. One old soldier is the only dependent person in the county, and he is being cared for by popular subscription, so the county may be said to be pauperless. Ten years ago there were over 500 paupers in Wichita county, but the crops have been so large since then that everybody has made plenty of money. No tramps are allowed in the county. They must work or leave.

He Got a Box.

Susie—So Harry is going to take you to the theater, is he?

Maude—Yes, indeed.

Susie—Do you think he will get a box?

Maude—Oh, he always does. Marshmallows don't cost so very much, you know.—Boston Transcript.

PROFITS OF ADVERTISING.

There seems to be an implied agreement among persons engaged in certain lines of business to avoid the appearance of competition, and thus escape the expense of advertising. Being without experience, they do not know that the wresting of trade from rival establishments is not the only effect of the publication of business announcements.

One of the results of advertising is to increase the total volume of trade. Most people have to be frequently reminded of their own needs and duties. The cost of judicious advertising is small compared with the profits.
